

NEW CZAR TAKES UP
RUSSIA'S SCEPTERPROCLAMATION ISSUED DE-CLARING HIMSELF CZAR.

The Czarwits Assumes the Reins of Government Under the Title of Nicholas II.—Alexander's Death Came Peacefully—Arrangements for the Funeral Not Completed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 2.—Emperor Nicholas II has issued a proclamation announcing the death of his father and proclaiming himself emperor.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The great ruler of all the Russians passed peacefully into the other world at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Different reports of the czar's death were received here before the authentic tidings arrived from Livadia. The first reports were vague and did not bear the stamp of accuracy. At the Russian embassy the officials declared up to half an hour before the official dispatch was received that the emperor was still alive, although it was admitted that at an early hour in the morning he was rapidly sinking, and was not expected to survive the day. Simultaneous with a flood of telegrams from Livadia, Livadia and St. Petersburg to the London newspapers at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon came an official telegram to the Russian ambassador, announcing that his majesty died at precisely 3 o'clock. The Russian ambassador has made public the purport of the official message, which is a duplicate of a general notification sent to the diplomatic representatives of Russia all over the world. From subsequent advices received here up to 6 o'clock it is learned that the czar died after being unconscious for eight hours.

THE LATE CZAR ALEXANDER.

NICHOLAS, THE NEW RULER OF THE RUSSIANS.

The scene in the death chamber was impressive. The czarina, herself utterly prostrated by recent illness and anxiety for her husband, the czarwits and his fiancé or wife, Princess Alix of Hesse, Grand Duke George, Grand Duke Constantine, Grand Duchess Xenia, Grand Duke Michael and Grand Duchess Olga, all children of the czar and czarina, and the czar's brothers, Grand Duke Vladimir and Grand Duke Michael; his sister, the Queen of Greece, were constantly at the bedside of his majesty from midnight, when Dr. Zacharin and Prof. Leyden, the royal physicians, notified them that the end was near.

A sudden collapse in the czar's condition at 9 o'clock in the morning gave rise to a report that he was dead. The royal physicians succeeded in rousing his majesty, however, and he continued to give feeble indications of his life until 3 o'clock.

The premature report of the czar's death had become circulated throughout Russia in the meantime.

The czar's death was painless. His physicians are preparing a statement giving the real cause of his ailment and describing the closing hours of his life. The royal family is stricken by the death of the czar and throughout Russia there is genuine lamentation. In St. Petersburg the public departments and thousands of residences are being draped in black. In the churches throughout the empire mass is being said for the repose of the czar's soul. The mourning for the czar is general. The police of St. Petersburg and Moscow have taken precautions to prevent a threatened demonstration of joy on the part of the nihilists.

FOR THE FUNERAL.

Most Impressive Ceremonies Will Mark the Obsequies.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 2.—The arrangements that will be made for the funeral are still unknown. It is believed the remains will be embarked on the imperial yacht Polarnain Fivezda (Polar Star) at Yalta, where the Seventh army corps will render military honors. The whole Black sea fleet will escort the yacht to Odessa, whence the remains will be conveyed by railway to St. Petersburg, stopping at the important towns en route, to enable troops to render honors to the dead. The state mourning will commence to-morrow. The funeral will probably be held two weeks hence. The arrival of the prince and princess of Wales, now en route to Livadia, is anxiously awaited. A special train awaits them at the frontier. It is believed the presence of the princess of Wales will afford great comfort to her sister, the czarina, and it is expected she will make a long stay in Russia.

CANTACUZENE HEARS THE NEWS.

Russian Ambassador at Washington Notified of the Czar's Death.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The announcement of the czar's death brought profound grief to the Russian legation at Washington. Official word came late in the afternoon in a cable from the minister of foreign affairs. The minister communicated the information to the state department, but owing to the absence at the time from the city of the President. It is probable the message of sympathy and condolence from President Cleveland will not be sent until to-day.

Upon receipt of the official notification of the czar's death Mr. Adey, second assistant secretary of state, acting secretary in the illness of Secretary Gresham, called upon Prince Cantacuzene and conveyed verbally to him the condolence of the President and secretary of state. A formal letter of condolence from Secretary Gresham will later be sent to him. The members of the diplomatic corps all called and left their cards at the Russian legation.

Prince Cantacuzene has telegraphed to Bishop Nicholas of the Greek church of Alaska to inquire whether he can come to Washington and hold a memorial service for the czar. No reply has been received from him and it is not definitely known whether he is in San Francisco or Chicago. It is proposed to hold the memorial service at the Russian legation, as there is no Greek church in Washington.

Czarwits Loses No Time.

LIVADIA, Nov. 2.—The garrisons at Cronstadt and St. Petersburg have taken the oath of allegiance to the new czar. Shortly after 4 o'clock the members of the palace guard were marshaled in the square in front of the palace chapel at Livadia for the ceremony of swearing allegiance to the new czar. They were the first to take the oath. The grand dukes were the next to swear allegiance, and they were followed in the order of precedence by the high court functionaries, court officials, military officers and civil officials.

An imperial decree announcing the accession to the throne of the Grand Duke Nicholas (the czarwits) is expected to arrive at St. Petersburg from Livadia in a few days.

Consternation in Paris.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—The news of the czar's death fell on Paris like a shock. The effect on the boulevard was remarkable. The evening newspapers appeared with black borders. The French cabinet had prepared a message of condolence some weeks ago, so it was fully prepared for the contingency. French people are full of uneasiness and uncertainty as to whether the new emperor will throw himself into the arms of Germany or continue his father's policy. There is a general feeling here, which is a case of hope being father to the thought, that the marriage of the new czar with Princess Alix, which must be postponed at least a year, may be broken off. President Casimir Perier and the members of the French cabinet, shortly after the czar's death became known, visited the Russian embassy as a mark of respect to the dead emperor.

News Received in London.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—M. De Staal, the Russian ambassador to Great Britain, did not receive an official dispatch at the embassy announcing the czar's death until 9 o'clock in the evening. The queen immediately dispatched a telegram of condolence to the czarina. The foreign office at midnight had received nothing beyond a short dispatch which was communicated to Prime Minister Rosebery and the members of the cabinet. There were many callers at the Russian embassy, who visited there to express condolence.

William Hurrahs for the New Czar.

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—At a banquet last night Emperor William announced that he had received news of far-reaching gravity, the death of the czar. He said: "With our sympathy for the new emperor we couple the desire that heaven may give him strength for his difficult office. Long live Emperor Nicholas II. Hurrah." The band then played the Russian anthem.

Plot Against the Czarwits Life.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—According to a special dispatch received here from St. Petersburg a conspiracy against the life of the czarwits has been discovered there. It is added for several days the police have been actively engaged in arresting nihilists. Among those arrested are several students. The police have also obtained possession of incriminating documents.

ROBBERS.

Masked Men Loot the Express Car on the Memphis & Birmingham Road and Secure a Small Amount of Cheap Jewelry as Pay For Their Work.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 2.—Passenger train No. 3 of the Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham railroad was held up at 1 o'clock yesterday morning a few miles east of New Albany, Miss., by three masked men and the express car looted of its contents. Conductor W. B. Leonard, who was in charge of the train, got into Birmingham at 6 o'clock in the morning and from him the facts were learned. He said the train was boarded by three masked men at New Albany who covered Engineer Campbell and Fireman Alexander with pistols and compelled them to stop at a designated point in the woods a few miles east of New Albany. The engineer and fireman were made to dismount, and an unsuccessful attempt was made to uncouple the engine. Express Messenger Jeannette's car was forced open, and he was compelled to give up the contents of the safe. Putting the booty in a bag the robbers backed off into the woods with their pistols still pointed at the crew and disappeared in the darkness. Officers of the Southern Express company say that only a lot of cheap jewelry and vouchers constituted the robbers' booty.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 2.—A dispatch from New Albany says the men who held up the train are believed to be experienced railroad men, as they showed a thorough knowledge of the movement of the train and knew all about railroad signals. Immediately after the robbery the bandits left in the direction of the lower range of the Cumberland mountains in the interior of Union county. The sheriff at once organized a posse and is in hot pursuit. Superintendent Ages says the Southern Express company will hunt them down as relentlessly as if they had got big money.

Prohibition Against American Beef
Stands for Sanitary Reasons.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—There is little reason now to expect the German government will relax its new order prohibiting the importation of American cattle and fresh beef and it is probable the matter will settle down to a question of endurance as between German sugar and American beef. The American ambassador at Berlin, Mr. Runyon, has presented Secretary Gresham's vigorous protest to the German foreign minister and accompanied it with the promise that the President will recommend to congress the amendment of the sugar schedules of the tariff act in the line of removing the differential duty, which is the cause of the German complaint of discrimination. Apparently his representations have made little impression, for he cabled the state department yesterday the German minister had disclaimed any idea of retaliation and had assured him the prohibition was based solely on sanitary reasons that could not be neglected, and the state department must content itself with trying to disprove the diagnosis of the German veterinarians and then settle down to a waiting policy. Meanwhile it will be interesting to note how the President treats the subject in his message to congress.

The bill was introduced by Assemblyman J. A. Taylor, a leading democrat, now a candidate for re-election. It was passed by the democratic legislature and signed by Governor Peck, the first and only governor, so far as known, to sign a law, compelling the use of the system.

District committees reported, showing the result of the poll of voters in town and other business was transacted. Dr. Sutherland of Janesville, was in the village on Wednesday. W. A. Thompson spent several days in Beloit this week. Every republican voter in Milton should consider himself a committee of one, whose business it is to bring every republican voter in his neighborhood to the polls next Tuesday, in the forenoon. The Kings' Daughters held their regular monthly meeting Monday evening at G. A. R. hall. A full attendance of the members is desired. Mrs. W. P. Clarke went to Palmyra Wednesday evening and inspected the W. R. C. of that village. The board of supervisors authorize us to state that the election in this precinct will be held in the office of the Milton House instead of in Goodrich's hall, as was heretofore announced. James G. Bond has gone to Hinton, West Virginia, to resume his former position on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. The feeble minded squad had their annual parade Halloween and did their usual idiotic act of horse block moving. How much longer will the fool killer allow them to exist? H. H. Harris of Janesville, was here Thursday. He will spend the winter in California. A representative of the revenue department of the government was visible here Thursday. John Sievert, the wagon maker, has moved to Jefferson and S. S. Oburn is running the shop formerly occupied by Sievert. Mrs. A. P. Coon and Mrs. Emma Place returned from their extended eastern visit Tuesday. Mrs. Brick and daughter of Rome, are visiting at A. O. Friddells. Mr. Buchanan of the Taylor Point hotel, Lake Koshkonong, who was arrested for selling liquor in violation of law, appeared before Justice Clarke Thursday, plead guilty, was fined $50 and cost and paid the same. Charles H. Mickelson of this village, and Miss Annie M. Rogers of Monroe, were united in marriage by Rev. C. E. Carpenter, Tuesday evening. The ceremony took place at the M. E. parsonage, and Mr. and Mrs. Mickelson will reside on the Vincent farm.

A number who contributed toward getting a flag staff for this place as yet fail to see one erected. Mrs. James Pepper intends to start for Chesley, Ontario, in the near future. HIS WIFE "LIT OUT" WHILE HE WAS GONE

FRED HAIN'S LONG SEARCH FOR HIS SPOUSE.

Leaving the Bread Ready To Bake and the House in High Disorder, She Made a False Track to the River, and Then Started for Illinois.

Re-united after a painful separation, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hain, who live on a farm near Brodhead, passed through Janesville en route for their Green county home. One week ago last Wednesday Mrs. Hain put on her hat, took a little money that belonged to her and left the house, just as it was standing at the time, the bread about to be put in the oven, the sweeping to be done, and everything in disorder. When the husband came home he thought that his wife had gone out to see a relative who lived in the west and who had been sick. He waited for some days but as she did not come back he became alarmed. Tracks that were recognized were found leading to the river, and at first it was thought that she had committed suicide, but a local Sherlock Holmes found another set of tracks leading away from the river and these were followed up. They led to a town where it was found upon inquiring the woman had been a few days before, it having taken nearly a week before the family became alarmed enough about the woman's absence to look for her, and the tracking process was continued slowly down to the state line, into Illinois.

Finally Found at Rockford.

Tuesday four of the searching party which was swelled to fourteen men, found traces of the woman in the vicinity of Durand, where it was learned that she had staid over night with a family. From Durand she was traced to Rockford, where Chief Bargen located her working for a private family, where she had been for a day or two. She applied to the Y. W. C. A. for help when first arriving in that city, and secured the position which she was filling when found by the officers.

The woman was taken to the police headquarters and confronted by her husband, who wanted to know the reason for her leaving home so suddenly and without explanation. She refused to make any statement other than that she went because she did not like to be in the house with her father and mother-in-law. Mrs. Hain is an intelligent woman and to talk with her one would suppose that she is all right mentally. Her husband says, however, that she had a crazy spell at one time and that he thinks this is the result of another attack.

The vanishing wife, after thinking the matter over for some time, and upon the promise of the husband that the domestic atmosphere would be a little less mother-in-lawish than formerly, left with her helpmate for her home in Wisconsin, via Janesville, where a close watch will doubtless be kept on her movements.

Two Janesville Attorneys To Speak on Saturday Evening.

FOOTVILLE, Nov. 2.—H. S. Sloan and M. G. Jeffris will address the citizens of this place on Saturday evening, November 3. All should turn out and fill the house for those prominent orators. Miss Lizzie Gillies, of Evansville, has been engaged to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ben. Blaisdell, as teacher here. Frank Pepper, the leaf dealer, is laid up with the rheumatism, of a bad form. There will be a farmers' institute held here during the coming winter. It will be a two days' session and prominent speakers such as H. T. Taylor and J. M. True will address the meetings. Fred Wallihan, telegraph student here, has removed to Dane, a station above Madison, where he hopes in a few months more to become a thorough operator. George Pepper, of Center, will enter the office here as telegraph student of F. M. Garlick, the first of next week. A young man prominent in society circles here invested six dollars in the Tallyerday Medicine Co's chance on a lady's gold watch last week and was very much crestfallen to find that he had lost, consequently his best girl goes without a timepiece. Bert Parker who has been at Roscoe as operator returned home on Monday. Lizzie Harper had the misfortune to loose her pet crow after having it in captivity for some time. Miss Jessie Dobson was called to Chicago suddenly, her sister being at the point of death. The marriage of Ambrose Ryan and Miss Annie Drew was quite a swell affair on last Tuesday. Rev. Black will preach here at the Deseciple church Sunday afternoon. One of the brakeman on freight train No. 40, had the misfortune to get one of his fingers badly smashed here, while coupling cars.

BIG GROWTH SHOWN BY THE POLL BOOKS

JANESVILLE HAS A POPULATION OF 15,000 OR MORE.

Total Registration is 3,712, Which Is Unusually Large—First Ward Has 807, the Second 633, the Third 690, the Fourth 973 and the Fifth Ward 690.

The several boards of registry in this city have completed their lists and the total number of registered voters is three thousand seven hundred and twelve. It is a large registration, but the registry officers claim they have been very careful in putting names on the list, making it as near correct as it is possible to make it. The lists give the following details:

FIRST WARD.
First Precinct..... 361
Second Precinct..... 446-807
SECOND WARD.
First Precinct..... 241
Second Precinct..... 392-633
THIRD WARD.
First Precinct..... 384
Second Precinct..... 306-690
FOURTH WARD.
First Precinct..... 440
Second Precinct..... 533-973
FIFTH WARD.
One Precinct..... 609-690

Total..... 3712
This registration gives Janesville fully fifteen thousand people at the present time. If figured five to one as is the case in many booming cities in estimating population, we would have a population of 18,560 at four to one, a low proportion 14:848.

A Temple of Health.

Where vigor, good digestion, appetite and sound repose minister to physical comfort, is the body's structure which, however much its foundations have been sapped by ill health, has been restored—re-built, as it were—by the great renovating tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing infuses strength into a debilitated frame like this saving medicine, which in the vigor and regularity it imparts to the system, endows it with the surest defense against disease, and the best guaranty of a long life and hale old age. Worn out men of business, tired mechanics, overworked mill hands and miners broken down by hardship and exposure to malaria, mariners and tourists all declare that it is the best safeguard against the influences of fatigue, poverty or meat, and of climate and temperature. Incomparable for rheumatic, kidney and nervous troubles.

Ely's Cream Balm is specially adapted as a remedy for catarrh which is aggravated by alkaline dust and dry winds.—W. A. Hover, Druggist, Denver.

My catarrh was very bad. For thirty years I have been troubled with it—have tried a number of remedies without relief. A druggist advised Ely's Cream Balm. I have used only one bottle and I can say I feel like a new man. I make this voluntary statement that others may know of the balm. J. W. Mathewson (Lawyer), Pawtucket, R. I.

Bad Ingratitude.
 "I dare say, Mrs. Ticklowell," observed the intimate friend, "that the pretty little orphan niece from North Carolina whom you have generously adopted will be a great comfort to you, now that your own children have married and gone out from the protecting shadow of the parental roof-tree."
 "I—I fear not, Mrs. Howjames," answered the Boston mother, with deep sadness. "To some extent I have persuaded her not to use the word 'with-out' for 'unless,' but if I cannot cure her of the habit of saying: 'If looks like it is going to rain,' I shall quite despair of her future!"—Chicago Tribune.

A Landlord in Despair.
 Wife—Who was that who called?
 Husband—Oh, one of my tenants who came to pay his rent.
 Wife—Didn't he pay?
 Husband—Yes.
 Wife—Then why do you look so gloomy?
 Husband—He didn't say a word about wanting a new range, or new wall paper, or anything else.
 Wife—What of it?
 Husband—That is a sure sign he is going to move.—Truth.

The competition will close December 1. As soon as possible after that date we will pay for accepted designs and return the others. Remember, for complete, acceptable advertisements we pay

FARMERS NOW COMPETE WITH SEAF.

Here is what free trade means to the farmer: Over 100,000 bushels of barley, grown in the realm of the czar, the result of the labor of his down-trodden peasantry, and which will be sold in the United States—perhaps in Milwaukee—in competition with the barley grown by the farmers of Wisconsin, arrived in New York yesterday.

The cargo is assigned to J. M. Caballero & Co., and it is said the owner is a Milwaukee maltster. Malt will be cheaper in consequence, but the workingman will continue to pay five cents for a glass of beer, while baby's malted milk will sell at the same old figure.

This is the first cargo of Russian grain to reach America and it will be admitted under the reduced rates of duty provided in the new tariff law to compete with the products of American farms in the west. Under the McKinley law barley was dutiable at 30 percent per bushel, an equivalent to 50 percent of the current prices a year ago. The Wilson bill slashed the rate to 20 percent ad valorem, which was raised as a slight concession to Western senators in the amendment to 30 percent. The farmers of South Russia took advantage of the cut to send part of their first crop succeeding it to the American market.

There are times when the man who styles himself an independent voter, is at a loss to determine which party should receive his support. Two years ago this element went bodily over to the democratic party and elected Mr. Cleveland. A democratic victory of the most pronounced type was the result, and two years of democratic rule have followed. That this class of voters were conscious is not a question of doubt; but that they made a grave mistake, is generally conceded by themselves, disaster and failure, financial loss, and idleness, have been so widespread that he most indifferent observer have been impressed with the fact, that a democratic administration is in some way responsible. It is idle to claim that these conditions prevail in the natural order of events, and that periodical panics are a necessity, and cannot be obviated. The panic of 1893 was not an accident. It was the inevitable result of legislation that was adverse to the best interests of American institutions. Free trade or radical tariff reform is a direct attack upon American labor, and no better evidence is needed than the lessons furnished by the workings of the Wilson bill.

The adjustment of American industries to meet foreign competition, is always at the expense of American labor, for labor is the principle item of cost of all production. When barley and wheat, lumber and coal from foreign countries, find a profitable market in America, it is because foreign labor produces cheaper than home labor, and there are only two preventives. One to put up the bars of protection and the other to put down the price of labor. The republican party believes today, and it always has, that the first preventive is the best. The democratic party adopts the second, and labor continues to suffer.

The laboring man, be he either independent, or democratic, who votes next Tuesday to continue this party in power, deliberately votes against his own interests, and the welfare of every man who toils in this country.

This fact is so self evident that it becomes the vital issue of the campaign, and unless the Gazette has mistaken public sentiment, a land slide from democracy will result.

MAN KILLED BY GAS IN A WAGON

Fred Starin of Baraboo Met Death in a Peculiar Manner.

Fumes from a charcoal fire killed Fred Starin, a Darien young man. Starin and Fred Langdon were traveling about catching turtles for the Philadelphia market. They camped in a covered wagon and had a charcoal stove in the same on which their meals were prepared. They went to bed as usual with some fire in the stove and did not notice that gas was escaping. Langdon awoke Monday afternoon, weak and exhausted, and found that his companion was in a stupor. He summoned help as soon as possible, but the deadly gas proved fatal.

PAVER MARTIN'S PROPERTY SOLD

Everything Was Sold for From Sixty Cents to $225.

The property of John Martin, against which the Oshkosh National Union bank held a bill of sale, and also three chattel mortgages for sums aggregating $1,500, was all disposed of at public sale. On fifteen horses $536.60 was realized and one of the animals sold for sixty cents. To the horse was attached a halter valued at twenty-five cents, so that the selling price of the animal was but thirty-five cents. Twelve wagons brought $210.75 and the sale realized was $1,270.35.

COMING TO JANESVILLE

EX-PRIEST SLATTERY

AND WIFE OF BOSTON, MASS.

Will Give Four LECTURES in Light Infantry Armory.

FIRST LECTURE

Sunday Afternoon, Nov. 4

HIS SUBJECT:

"Why I Left the Roman Catholic Priesthood, and What I Saw Therein."

Father Slattery will dress in public before his audience in his "Priest's Vestments." He is the only ex-priest in America today that wears them. He will be a rare treat for Protestants to see the "rogue" and "Pagan Vestments" of the Roman church. Scapulars of all kinds, and beads will be exhibited, also the Romish Wafer God large and small.

His equal was never before heard in this city. Crowds everywhere. His lectures will be the talk of the city. His first visit here. He is gifted, eloquent and witty and challenges any priest or bishop to meet him in debate. You will see something you never saw before—a priest's wife. He receives the heartiest of applause. The hall will be packed on this occasion.

SECOND LECTURE.

Sunday Night, Nov. 4.

By MRS. SLATTERY.

Subject—"Her Rescue From the Convent by her cousin, Lady Morton, of England."

She will wear the full Nun's Dress of the order to which she belonged.

Life in a convent is a world in itself. She will also explain the ceremonies of "taking the veil."

MRS. SLATTERY, known as Sister Mary Elizabeth in the convent, speaks to ladies only, Monday afternoon, November 5.

MR. SLATTERY, to men only, Monday night, November 5, on the "Secrets of the Confessional."

A thousand ladies attended in Milwaukee and two thousand men.

This will be the greatest treat of your life to hear Slattery. He has no equal on this question. It is only once in a lifetime you have a chance of hearing a man of his ability.

Believe nothing that you hear or read that is complimentary in regard to Mr. Slattery or his lecture. Remember all such are written by persons who are prejudiced. Resolve to hear him for yourself.

To cover expenses of printing, hall and traveling, the following prices are adopted:

Admission, Sunday afternoon and night, 15 cents. Reserved seats, 25 cents.

Admission, Monday afternoon and night, 25 cents. Reserved seats, 35 cents.

All lectures different. To commence at three and eight o'clock Sunday, and half past two on Monday. Doors open an hour before.

Not tickets sold in advance.

Ladies and gentlemen admitted to both Sunday lectures, when admissions are cheaper.

Mr. Slattery does not come to this city under the auspices of any society or organization, but travels altogether under the direction of his manager.

BANDITS WITH GUNS DID A NERVY JOB

TWO MASKED ROBBERS HOLD UP A DEPOT.

Sheriff Bear and the Police Notified That the Station Agent of the Northwestern at Roscoe Was Robbed Last Night—Martin Gagan Sent Back to Waupun.

Two masked men held up the station agent of the Chicago & Northwestern road at Roscoe, Ill., last night and Sheriff Bear and the Janesville police have been warned to look out for the bandits.

One is described as being about five feet and six inches tall; weighing one hundred and forty pounds, wore dark clothes considerably worn, a dark slouch hat and was evidently twenty-three or twenty-four years old. The other one was similarly dressed except that he had no vest.

The hold up occurred at 7 o'clock in the evening. While the agent was at work the two bandits confronted him with drawn revolvers.

"Throw up your hands" was the command they gave.

"Now we want the money in the safe," was the next.

The agent handed over about $15 and the bandits disappeared. Chief Acheon was inclined to think this morning that the men who did the work were tramps from the State Line. "Wisconsin Tommy" a Janesville tough whose right name is James Hess, and a gang of his ilk are making that section of the country his headquarters and a job of that kind would be right in their line.

Gagan Goes Back to Waupun.

Martin Gagan, the tough Janesville product who had the fight at Afton with a train crew and was sent to jail for ten days in consequence is back in his old cell at Waupun. Gagan was much surprised when Sheriff Bear woke him this morning.

"Come Gagan, get your things ready to go back to the 'pen' said the sheriff.

"You don't mean that?" Gagan asked in astonishment.

"Yes I do" remarked the sheriff.

Gagan was much crest-fallen to find that his little fun at Afton was going to cost him three years. Deputy Warden Gebhardt took him back this morning.

Gagan was sent up from Fond du Lac for five years for a bold highway robbery, but was afterward released on parole. The agreement was rendered void upon his arrest and when notified, the state prison officials at once sent Warden Gebhardt for him. Gagan is a bad character and the state prison is his proper quarters. Sheriff Bear says that he has not had a tougher customer in his hotel in many a day.

BADLY SCARED.

Are the Merchants of Janesville—The Opening of the Milwaukee Wholesale Clothing Stock in this City is Causing a Racket.

A most interesting ruction has been stirred up in this city since the announcement was made that a portion of the stock of a large Milwaukee wholesale clothing house would be sold in this city. Secret confabs, mysterious movements, a hurrying to and fro that would mystify the instincts of a Pinkerton detective has characterized the actions of these local merchants. Frequent very interesting interviews are said to have taken place in which prayers and protestations are said to have freely mingled and several dark hints indulged in should this terrible clothing store be opened up. The result of all this was nervous disorder. News,er rantings and other ludicrous things which show only too plainly to the people what it is, and where it is the shoe pinches. The whole city seems torn up over the matter, and the frantic appeals of our merchants is making life a burden to the newspaper reader. To the people it is announced that the wholesale clothing stock will open as advertised tomorrow morning, and goods will go at prices that will bring the hearts of all competitors. Be sure of our number, 59 East Milwaukee street, opposite Myers house and next door to United States Express office. Beware of pitfalls and false signs that will be placed to mislead you from our store.

BELOIT NEWS TELLS UNTRUTHS. Charge Made Against Mr. Appleby Are Without Foundation In Fact.

The Beloit Daily News an alleged newspaper published at Beloit of alleged democratic policy, but which is not recognized as such by the Recorder says:

"A few days before election Appleby goes to Janesville and gets the Gazette to ignore the city authorities investigations and publish another statement to blackmail Mr. Hogan. He has the Free Press publish this also for his edification."

Mr. Appleby never asked the Gazette to publish an article of any nature. The county and city record show that Mr. Hogan has not turned over all the fees earned by him. The Gazette is not blackmailing him. Mr. Hogan's explanations have not "made matter as clear" as The News claims. The Gazette has not "ignored the investigation made by the authorities," but has published the result of the investigation which shows that money is due from Mr. Hogan, for fees earned which the city charter provides should be turned over to the city. Either the brains of the News youth have become misplaced, or else he never had any.

Janesville's Equalization Is Raised $190,000, While Beloit Gets a Lift of $100,000—Edgerton, Evansville and Milton Remain the Same, and Other Places Get the Benefit.

One hundred and ninety thousand dollars is the amount the committee on county equalization voted to add to the city of Janesville last evening before adjourning. The valuation of the county is equalized on the same basis as on former years. Janesville equalization is raised $190,000 and Beloit gets a raise of an even $100,000. The equalization of the city of Edgerton, the village of Evansville and the town of Milton remain the same as last year, while the villages and towns get the benefit of the $290,000 added to Janesville and Beloit, pro rata.

RYAN & BROWN MAKE A STATEMENT

They Insist That the Curtis Bid Was Not a Proper One.

Ryan & Brown send The Gazette the following communication in regard to the sewer contract:

EDITOR GAZETTE: There is so much nonsense printed in the Recorder about Mr. Curtis' bid on the county sewer that we wish to say that Mr. Curtis did not present a bid; he presented a piece of paper that did not cover more than half the work.

"When Mr. Billings was asked in the court house, after the contract was awarded, who figured and wrote the bid he said: 'He did not know; but whoever did must have been crazy.'"

If Mr. Curtis will look over the specifications he will say that the work described therein is not the work he figured on. There was no trestle, no lamp holes and no depth of from ten to twelve feet for the trench, enumerated. It is legally understood that if the committee had awarded that contract to Mr. Curtis, they would leave the country liable to any contractor whose bid was in accordance with the plans and specifications. Calhoun Opera Work Pleased a Large Audience Last Night.

When the Calhoun Opera Company left Janesville they numbered among their new friends many Bower City people. Amorita, a very pleasing production by Czibuka, was the piece selected and it was presented in a very taking manner. Very few improvements in the company could have been suggested and the large audience enjoyed the opera fully. Special scenery added to the attractiveness of the stage and there was not a poor voice in the company. Manager Stoddard is to be commended in securing so good an attraction. He is working hard to make the Bower City amusements high grade.

Gloves,

Mittens,

HE WOULDN'T PAY.

But the Ticket-Chopper Had no Sympathy for Bobby.

A man and his wife and child climbed the stairs of the Fifty-ninth street station of the Third Avenue elevated road, according to the New York Sun. The woman and child passed out to the platform and the man dropped two tickets into the box and followed them.

"Is that boy with you?" asked the ticket chopper. "How old is he?"

"Yes, he is with me. That's my son. He's 14. What do you want to know for?"

"Well, if he is 14 you will have to pay for him."

"What's that? I'll have to pay for Bobby? Well, I guess I won't."

"Well, I guess he will pay or he won't ride," said the ticket chopper.

A train came along, and the man, woman and child were about to board it, when the ticket chopper from his chair shouted to the guard:

"Don't let them on, Billy. They didn't pay."

Bang went the doors, the train started and the guard smiled at the man.

Pushing over to where the ticket chopper sat smiling, he spluttered out: "What do you mean by that?" Then his anger got the best of him, and he could not do anything but shake his fist under the ticket chopper's nose.

When the next train came the man stationed himself about where the platform of the first and second cars would come to a stop. Just as the train stopped the ticket chopper again shouted from his chair:

"Don't let them three on, Red."

Again the gate was closed. The disappointed traveler said unpleasant things to the ticket chopper and wound up with this:

"Now, my wife and Bobby and myself are going to stay right on this platform until we can get on a train. You understand? And we won't pay for Bobby either. When you get ready to let us get on a car just tell us," and he walked up the platform with the expression of a man who had done a clever thing.

It was 7:30 o'clock. At 10:20 he got up from his seat and going over to the ticket chopper, said: "Well, can we ride now?"

"Not unless you pay for your boy?"

At this answer the man fired up again. "I wouldn't ride on your road, anyway," he shouted; "you couldn't give it to me, you grinning fool. Come here, you two, and we will get down from this place."

This last remark was addressed to his wife and boy. The three left the station and the next minute were waiting on the corner for a cable car.

A YOUNG GIRL'S FORTUNE.

AN INTERESTING SKETCH.

Nothing appeals so strongly to a mother's affection as her daughter just budding into womanhood. Following is an instance: "Our daughter, Blanche, now 15 years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. She was in such a condition that we had to keep her from school and abandon her music lessons. In fact, we feared St. Vitus dance, and are positive but for an invaluable remedy she would have had that terrible affliction. We had employed physicians, but she received no benefit from them. The first of last August she weighed but 25 pounds, and although she had taken only three bottles of Nerve, she now weighs 116 pounds; her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and studies with comfort and ease. She has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Nerve has brought her."

When my brother recommended the remedy, I had no faith in patent medicines, and would not listen to him, but as a last resort he sent us a bottle, we began giving it to Blanche, and the effect was almost immediate."—Mrs. R. B. Dillcock, Brighton, N. Y.

FASHIONS IN GOWNS.

Redingotes of Cloth or Velvet Are the Latest Style.

Coats and skirts will be worn this winter as much as ever. Braid is introduced onto the jackets and skirts of some of the newest models and will make a pleasant change. Blue gray is one of the leading colors of the season for coat and skirts, either in frieze, tweed, covert coating or double melton, the latter cloth with beaver surface being very chic when made up.

Some of the new early winter suits have the skirts cut with the corselet point. This, while not in many senses new, is always desirable, as it does away with the necessity of a separate belt. Belts are never to be fully depended upon to keep up the uniformity of the skirt and bodice, no matter how carefully they are adjusted.

Green and brown are a favorite combination at present, while green and all shades of rose make a brilliant showing in all the milliners' windows. Faded colors, are at a discount this season, the purest and most brilliant tints being preferred.

Long redingotes of cloth or velvet perfectly cut are the height of fashion for winter wear. The material must be of the best for these garments, the elegance of which is unquestionable.

A great deal of fur will be worn as trimming and in the form of ornaments and accessories, such as collars and boas, but entire jackets of fur are not fashionable.

Princess robes hold an important place among winter novelties. The one of which an illustration is given is of old red cloth trimmed with beaver bands and beaver colored velvet. The sides and front of the gown are cut like a corselet, closing at the left side with large covered buttons. The skirt is trimmed with bands of fur, forming points in front. A triple collar or epaulet bordered with fur cover the shoulders, from which descends on each side of the front a full scarf of velvet, which terminates beneath the corselet. Bands of fur surround the wrists of the gigot sleeves.

NEW COLORS AND COMBINATIONS.

Royal Blue Is Added to the Brilliant Shades Already Worn.

Among the new shades that we are to expect is a very pronounced tone of royal blue. It is described as being harsher even than the tint to which we became somewhat accustomed in the early part of last autumn. French milliners have a way of subduing and toning down these vehement colors by adding black in great quantities or perhaps a darker shade of the blue itself, but we, being less advanced in the science of colors, forget these palliatives and inflict the crude shade without the condonation afforded by such propinquity. It is almost certain that a great deal of black will be worn in the autumn and winter, not only in dresses, capes, coats and mantles, but on bonnets and hats. A great many new ribbons are made with a satin border in a contrasting color, black frequently forming half the ribbon, and the other being a very bright tone of color. Bonnet strings are already wider than they were, and it is expected that during the winter their width will increase still more. Velvet faced with satin is the favorite for this purpose. It is tied in an ample and becoming bow beneath the chin, and the ends are worn rather longer than they used to be. White ribbons with a black border are greatly used for the strings of gold and black or entirely jet bonnets, and a flower of bright color is introduced in order to give relief to this magpie effect. Blue and heliotrope are used in the same costume, and pink and heliotrope, the latter being very pretty if the proper shades are selected.

The illustration shows a gown of bluish gray cloth trimmed with garnet velvet. It is cut in princess style, the bottom being bordered by a bias band of velvet. The skirt is decorated with three horizontal bands of No. 100 garnet velvet ribbon, and two similar bands trim the front of the corselet. The gigot sleeves are of velvet. Narrow jet passementerie forms the additional trimming of the bodice. The hat is of garnet velvet adorned with black plumes and two ears of Sevre's blue velvet.

Chinese Coins.

A curious feature of Chinese coins, the nail mark, appears to have originated in an accident very characteristic of China. In the time of Queen Wen-teh a model in wax of a proposed coin was brought for her majesty's inspection. In taking hold of it she left on it the impression of one nail, and the impression has in consequence been a marked characteristic of Chinese coins for hundreds of years.

ELECTION NOTICE.

OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK }
JANESVILLE, OCTOBER 24, 1894. }

To the electors of Rock county:

Notice is hereby given that a general election is to be held in the several towns, wards and election precincts in the county of Rock, on the sixth day of November, 1894, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, and the questions submitted to a vote, are given opposite the name of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its appropriate column below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters: A voter upon entering the polling place, and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk, which must have endorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, voter must retire, alone to a booth or compartment, and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. The voter, if he wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party, should make a cross mark, X, under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the square made for that purpose. A ballot so marked, and having no other mark, will be counted for all of the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased, and will be counted for all names written in lieu of one erased or pasted over a printed name. If the voter wishes to vote for some of the candidates of different political parties, he should erase the names of the candidates he does not desire to vote for, and make a cross mark, X, after the name of each candidate he does desire to vote for. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office and make a cross, X, in the square at the right of it. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum, to assist the voter in marking his ballot, can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked, it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer, that he is unable to read or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers, in marking same, to be chosen by the voter. The presiding officer may administer an oath, in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are as follows:
